VOLUME CVI.---NO. 13. ALEXANDRIA, VA., MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 16, 1905. PRICE 2 CENTS.

No joy or pleasure on this earth quite equals that which comes into the home when baby arrives. Who can describe the happiness of man and woman, joined in wedlock, as they look upon the fragile, delicate mite that is blood of their blood and flesh of their flesh? And who can depict the hopelessness and dejection that hover about the home where the wife is incapable of becoming a mother? Barrenness proceeds from some derangement of the distinctly feminine organs. Many of the common ailments known as "female troubles" cause it. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription overcomes barrenness by stamping out diseases of women, and by healing and curing ulceration. It tones up the system, stops drains, and restores strength. During gestation it modifies morning sickness, gives elasticity to the overstrained parts concerned, makes the hour of baby's coming short and almost painless, and gives wonderful recuperative power to the patient. By making the mother strong and cheerful, it makes the little one healthy, vigorous and good natured. Insist upon the medicine dealer giving you Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription when you ask for it. Substitutes are often dangerous.

Mrs. James W. Blacker, of 620 Catherine St., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "Your medicines have done wonders for me. For years my health was very poor; I had four miscarriages, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' I have much better health, and now I have a fine healthy baby."

For 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, you can get a free copy of that celebrated doctor book, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, illustrated. Cloth-bound, 31 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

TO CURE ANY DISEASE.

The Cause Must be Removed, Same Way With Dandruff.

Newbro's Herpicide not only contains the dandruff germ destroyer, but it is also a most delightful hair dressing for regular toilet use. No other hair preparation is on this scientific basis of destoying the dandruff germs. It stops all irritation, keeps the scalp sweet, pure and wholesome. Remember that something claimed to be "just as good," will not do the work of genuine Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ALFONSO PREFERS BLONDE.

Who will be Alfonso XIII's bride? That question dominates Spain today, and is especially dear to the Madrileons.

Though the King is only in his 19th year the gossips will have it that his formally announced intention of making the "grand tour" of Europe early next year has as its object the quest of a suitable bride.

Most stress is being laid upon Alfonso's intention to visit London and Berlin, while the Catholic capitals are at present in the background. As in the case of the Crown Prince of Prussia, his name has already been coupled with that of more than one pretty girl, and much has been heard of the inevitable American, Miss Camilla Rogers, whose fair hair and blue eyes are said to have captured Alfonso's susceptible heart.

By the law of contraries, Alfonso, who is himself dark, prefers the fair; and in the "confession book" of the Princess of the Asturias, lately described his ideal as "fair, blue-eyed and Teutonic, without the Tautonic tendency to stoutness."

As most of the unmarried Catholic princesses of Europe are dark, he is not likely to find his ideal.

The king has recently been trying to maintain Spain's Oriental traditions by mingling incognito among his subjects.

Some weeks ago, dressed in civilian garb, he supped with a young officer at the Restaurant de Fornos, and had the satisfaction of hearing a woman comment upon "his likeness to the king."

After supper he drove with his companion along the Calle de Alcala as far as the bull ring, questioning his hired coachman on matters of high politics. These escapades are, however, by no means common. On the whole, Alfonso is reserved, indifferent to aplause and shy.

Alfonso has of late been busy on plans for improving the big, uncomfortable palace which overlooks the Manzanares. The unattractive park, which stretches down almost to the river, is to be replanted, and the King's private rooms redecorated.

The king is as fond as any woman of pretty surroundings, and has more than once given his mother, Queen Christina, cause for grave apprehensions by his lavish method of spending money on unessential things. The queen's influence has, however, lately diminished greatly, for Alfonso is exceedingly willful, and insists that he, and no one else, is sovereign of Spain.

According to his intimates, Alfonso is inclined to be Anglophile in his tastes. A court official, however, says that he was intensely annoyed at the Anglo-French treaty about Morocco. Most of his wrath, however, was directed against France, and during the Anglo-Portugese ameuities he remarked more than once that Spain was being left out in the cold.

A Divorce from Bride.

One of the most sensational divorce cases in the history of New Jersey is now being heard before Justice Childs in the Court of Chancery in Newark, where Dr. James J. Young is suing his beautiful wife for divorce, naming James A. Annott, of Brooklyn, as co-respondent. Mrs. Young was Miss Harriet Maria Ross, daughter of John L. Ross, who is well known in Brooklyn Heights society. The daughter is a noted beauty, and her picture took one of the prizes in the beauty contest held recently at the St. Louis Exposition. The various details as they have been brought out at the trial have proved intensely absorbing to society in Newark and Brooklyn, and the announcement that there is yet more to be brought out has not tended to diminish interest in any degree. The evidence to date involves the alleged infidelity of a wife and a friend, the entrance by detectives into a suite of rooms in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, the finding there of the man who has been named and the defendant, and the preparation of a suit for $100,000, for the alienation of affection. Mrs. Young has put in no defense and is now in southern California. Dr. Young's attorneys, are now trying to serve Mr. Annott with papers.

Miss Ross met Dr. Young at a medical school where she was taking a course in medicine. This was in Baltimore. Later she continued her studies at the Long Island College Hospital, where Dr. Young was serving as interne. Love developed between the two, and finally in 1898 they were married in St. Michael's Methodist Episcopal Church in Brooklyn. They were happy until last summer. Mr. Annott, who has been named in the case, was a friend of Dr. Young, and last summer he paid the Young's a long visit.

Mr. Wm. S. Crane, of California, Md., suffered for years from rheumatism and lumbago. He was finally advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did and it effected a complete cure. This liniment is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

All who use Atomizers in treating nasal catarrh will get the best result from Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price, including spraying tube, 75 cts. Sold by druggists or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but when all other medicines failed, three $1 bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Bronchitis and all Throat and Lung Troubles. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store.

Tonic to the System.

For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little Pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Bob Moore, of LaFayette, Ind., says: "No use talking, DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work. All other pills I have used gripe and make me sick in the stomach and never cured me. Dewitt's Little Early Risers proved to be the long sought relief. They are simply perfect." Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the most reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold by all druggists.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

MONDAY EVENING. JAN. 16, 1905.

THE GOVERNMENT will, it is said, soon take charge of the tomb of the late President Andrew Johnson. The enclosure containing the remains is to be converted into a national cemetery. Andrew Johnson, doubtless one of the ablest men that ever occupied the White House, had a stormy career during a long public life. Beginning life at the lowest rung of the ladder—an apprentice to a tailor—he entered manhood in an illiterate condition, and one of the first duties of his wife was to teach him how to read. He was afterwards his own tutor. Elected an Alderman in his native city in North Carolina, he climbed from one position to another until he eventually became President of the United States Fearless and outspoken, he necessarily made as many enemies as friends. Reared in the school of Jeffersonian democracy, he was a Pharisee of the Pharisees until secession was suggested, when he found he was the only southern Senator that opposed that movement. During the four years war he out-Heroded Herod in radicalism, especially while military governor of Tennessee. Abraham Lincoln was assassinated at a critical time in the country's history, and Andrew Johnson was sworn in as his successor amid surroundings over which the historian would prefer to draw the veil. Great apprehension was manifested in the South, as it was feared that Johnson would, to use a northern expression, "make treason odious." He did nothing of the sort, however, but became a sincere friend of the people of his section during reconstruction days when the rabid element of the republican party were endeavoring to further crush and humiliate every one who had been in the Confederate army or a sympathizer with secession. It was during this time that the impeachment farce was enacted. At the close of his term as President he was sent to the Senate from Tennessee. There were many incidents in the life of Andrew Johnson which never appealed to Southern people; some, however, did, and the fact that the government is about to honor his memory should meet with no protest. Johnson was a typical American and a true type of the evolution of the working man. With neither fortune nor family name upon which to bank, by his own genius and industry he reached the highest position in the gift of the people. The multiplied references to his lowly origin never impeded his progress, and when in a position to retaliate he rose superior to this questionable passion and granted pardons and other favors to all who solicited them.

THE conference held in Boston Saturday upon invitation of Gov. Douglas between a committee of the Fall River cotton goods manufacturers and representatives of their striking employes closed at 6 o'clock that evening, no agreement for the settlement of the strike having been reached. Another conference will be held at the Statehouse Wednesday next. The strike has lasted for six months and has been attended with much suffering on the part of the nearly 26,000 strikers, and with loss to the mill owners. Concerning the strike the Boston Advertiser says:

"The Fall River strike was not necessary. But once it had begun, so long as the feeling was what it was, it had to be fought out. The mills have won. But they have lost business, many of their best operatives and their chances of earning dividends. Nobody can measure what the strikers have lost. The textile councils, influence is weakened, of course, but the heavy and painful loss is on the families of the strikers. Many of them have lived lives of untold misery this winter. It was a poor business all around. With common sense it could have been staved off. But that is true of most of the world's most bitter wars, plagues and catastrophies. Governor Bates did what he could after the strike had begun; but nobody but the Fall River men themselves could settle it. No outsider could tell them more than they already knew.

AS STATED in Saturday's Washington correspondence, if President Roosevelt's recommendations with regard to the Panama canal are carried out by Congress the present canal commission of seven members will be abolished and a new commission of three members will be established. Chief Engineer Wallace will become the real head of the undertaking and upon him will be placed the responsibility of executing the plans finally agreed upon for the construction of the canal. It is given out that the present canal commission, which has Admiral Walker at its head, has proved to be cumbersome in operation, but on the very back of this it is said that to help Mr. Wallace it is the intention of the President to call into consultation with him some of the best engineers of the country to act in an advisary capacity. Thus it would appear that the "cumbersome" commission of seven is to be superseded by a commission that may really have more than seven members, but which will conform more strictly with the ideas of the President than did the one originally appointed.

A FLAT denial of all hopes of peace is the present which the Czar makes to the Russian populace in signalizing the celebration of the Russian New Year's Day. The Czar does not equivocate in the least. Instead of the intimation wished for—that peace with honor in the far East would not be long delayed—he stands steadfastly for a prolongation of the struggle, and hints that it will be continued until Russian arms triumph. In offering this intimation he takes occasion to point out that Russia has heretofore risen through adversity, and recovered from much more serious reverses, and, while deploring the fall of Port Arthur, he expresses the belief that the time is coming when his army and navy will rise up and break the strength of the Japanese.

SUBSIDIZED steamship lines are urged by the merchant marine commission on the ground that our commerce needs more steamship service than vesselmen will supply unless hired to do so by the government. But, as suggests the Philadelphia Record, a firm in that city thoughtlessly knocks this argument into a cocked hat by announcing that it has arranged for a direct service between Philadelphia and India.

RAPID-PASSING pension records went to smash Saturday when the House whipped through 459 such bills in 108 minutes. The G. A. R. has decided that there shall be no diminution in the pension list or the pension payments and the pensioners we are to have always with us.

JUST AS Congress for eight years has been putting off currency legislation, which one administration after another has suggested, so the House will ignore the tariff question until it has again become the paramount political issue.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 16.

Railroad legislation, along the lines proposed by the President, is embodied in two bills introduced in the House today, one by Representative Townsend, of Michigan, the other by Representative Esch, of Wisconsin, who have conferred on the subject with the President and with Attorney General Moody, and who express their views in the matter. Representative Townsend's measure creates a transportation court to have exclusive jurisdiction over all decisions of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Esch bill authorizes the commission to fix rates where rates are the subject of complaint. The Esch bill enlarges the power of Interstate Commerce Commission, so that it may upon complaint fix a reasonable rate. This rate stands unless reversed by a transportion court. The democrats of the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce, also introduced a bill in the House today representing their views. It also follows along the lines of the Presidents recomendations to Congress. It gives the Interstate Commerce Commission the right to fix a rate, where the same is subject of complaint, appeal is to the District Federal Court, where the complaint originates, and the rate fixed stands until passed upon by the court. Chairman Heyburn, of the same committee, has nearly completed his bill on the same subject, and expects to have it ready for submission Wednesday or Thursday.

Judge James A. Miner, who was on the stand Saturday, resumed his testimony this morning in the Reed Smoot investigation before the Senate committee. He testified to the general good character of Senator Smoot and to his prominence politically even at the time when witness first went to Utah in 1890. He said that polygamy was so rapidly dying out that in ten years Utah would be a better State morally than many of the others. Elias A. Smith, of Salt Lake, cashier of the Deseret Savings Bank and a democrat, testified as to the early political conditions in Utah at the time it became a State and was positive that the Mormon Church had not interfered in politics.

Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor granted a hearing this morning to representatives of the National Board of Steam Navigation who wish certain changes made in the new regulations that the Board of Supervising Inspectors have submitted. The rules that the supervisors wish promulgated do not please the Board of Steam Navigation because they say these rules were framed twenty-five years ago when the steamboat owners were men without experience, whose vessels were built by gnesswork and whose business was conducted without any regard for the public's welfare. Henry L. Joyce, of the Manhattan Lighterage and Transportation Company of New York, heads the executive committee of the Board of Steam Navigation which includes many prominent steamboat men of the east. In a communication addressed to Secretary Metcalf, the board calls attention to the fact that most of the great disasters on land, as well as on the water, are caused by the panic of the people involved and not by the lack of foresight of the owners of the house or craft in which the horror occurs.

In the Senate today a bill providing for the extension into Washington of the Great Falls and Old Dominion Railway Company line was taken up on motion of Mr. Martin by a vote of 30 to 24, after spirited objection by Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, and Mr. Hale, of Maine. The latter moved to recommit. Mr. Gallinger, chairman of the district committee, in advocating the passing of the bill charged among other things that the opposition to the measure came through the influence of New York bond holders of existing street railway lines in Washington. The measure was finally displaced by the Statehood bill, and again went to the calendar.

A statement was made in Cleveland, Ohio, yesterday, by Collector of Customs Leach that considerably more than $250,000 worth of precious stones handled by Mrs. Chadwick had been found, and it is expected that nearly or all of $1,000,000 worth of jewelry will be uncovered before the secret service men finish their investigations.

Premier Combes' cabinet weathered another storm after a session of the French Chamber of Deputies, lasting until 1 o'clock Sunday morning, and secured a majority of ten on a motion supporting the declarations of the ministers and approving the policy of the government. The result was achieved after a debate marked by frequent violent altercations, threatening a free fight, and during the course of which an opposition deputy flourished a saucepan in the face of the premier. The majority, although not large, is considered sufficient to insure the retention of the ministry. Premier Combes and his ministers, however, notwithstanding their successful struggle in the Chamber of Deputies Saturday night, have decided to resigns and their decision is hailed by the opposition as a victory.

WILL HE CONFESS?

Former Mayor McCue, of Charlottesville, spent yesterday, probably his last Sunday on earth, mainly in receiving visits from relatives and friends. Rev. Harry B. Lee, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, was the first caller and he spent a half hour with the condemned man.

At 10 o'clock McCue was shaved by his barber. Then came his children—little Ruby and her three brothers, William, Samuel and Harry—Mrs. Rhodes, of Brookesville, a sister, and three of his brothers—William, of Greenwood; Charles, of Afton, and Edward O., of Charlottesville, the last named accompanied by his wife These spent sometime in the cell, the scene being quite an affecting one.

There were three visitors in addition to the above named. To one of these McCue reasserted his innocence. but stated that he was perfectly willing to die, and that he had no ill feeling against anyone.

As these last days of McCue go by there is a growing belief that he will confess. He is, to judge by his conversation, convinced of his readiness to die and the certainty of meeting his wife in heaven. His religious convictions, apparently, are of the old-fashioned kind. He has never been troubled by skeptical thoughts. The matter of confession, as understood by religious teachers, is engaging his attention. At least this is the belief of an officer whose duty takes him to McCue's cell occasionally. Whether confession should be before all men, or merely to God in secret, is the question. "I believe," said the officer, "that if he is guilty and does not confess, it would be due to the failure of the preachers to tell him that public confession is necessary, or if they do tell him so, then to his failure to be convinced by their advice."

McCue's behavior in the circumstances of these last few days has been a surprise to those who have known him all his life. He was never a man to give up in the face of obstacles that seemed to others plainly insurmountable He was a hard-headed stubborn fighter at all times when he had a plan to carry through; but from the moment that he knew of the decision of the Court of Appeals no one, as far as can be learned, has heard him express the least hope or urge that anything further be done to save him. He had been confident, not only that the court would award the writ of error, but that he would be granted a retrial. That his resignation to his fate is due to the assurance of his lawyers that the writ refused, all hope would be gone is the belief of a great many who have watched the case closely from the beginning. Certainly, it is thought that if the lawyers and the ministers have united in inspiring this frame of mind, they have, in view of the hoplessness of the man's situation, done the wisest and most merciful thing possible.

Today's Telegraphic News

Situation in the East.

London, Jan. 16.—According to the Rome correspondent of the Central News, a dispatch has been received in the Italian capital, from Tokio, announcing that 200,000 reinforcemeuts are ready to be sent to Field Marshal Oyama, who is operating against General Kuropatkin at the Shahke river. Fifty thousand troops have already been started on their way.

Nagasaki, Japan, Jan. 16.—General Nogi has written to the Governor here commending General Stoessel to his consideration. Nogi points out that the former Russian commander at Port Arthur is now neither a prisoner nor an enemy, but a foreign gentleman, who has meritoriously served his couutry. General Stoessel has cabled Emperor William of Germany, thanking him for the decration conferred last week. Passages have been booked for Stoessel and the other Russian officers who will go back to Russia on a steamer leaving for Port Said.

Manchester, Eng., Jan. 16.—The Guardian is informed by a "well known member of the diplomatic body" that Russia's note to the powers last week, complaining of China's laxity in the matter of neutrality, has set the diplomatic world ago. What Russia expects to gain by the note, this diplomat says, nobody knows, not even Russia herself. Continuing, the Guardian says: "Chaos prevails in the government departments at St. Petersburg. These officials fully anticipate defeat as the lot of Russian arms in Manchuria, and are casting about for some means to end the war."

New Trial for Senator Burton.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The Supreme Court of the United States this afternoon rendered a decision granting a new trial to Senator Joseph R. Burton, of Kansas. He was convicted by the U. S. District Court of St. Louis, of acting as paid attorney for a get-rich-quick concern before the Postoffice Department while holding the position of Senator, and was sentenced to six months in the Iron county, Mo., jail and to pay a fine of $2,500. Today's decision was by the narrow majority of five to four.

Senator Joseph Ralph Burton was granted a new trial by the Supreme Court this morning on a writ of error obtained by the defendant to the sentence of Judge Adams, of the Missouri District Court at St. Louis of six months imprisonment any $2,500 fine. Senator Burton was tried under the federal statute prohibiting members of Congress from receiving compensation for representing clients before the government deparment. He was alleged to have appeared for the Rialto Grai and Investment Company of St Louis before the Postoffice Department and to have received money for his services.

On the question whether the statute covers the offense, alleged to have been committed, by Senator Burton, Justices Harlan, Brown, McKenna, Holmes and Day were in the affirmative; while the Chief Justice, Justices Brewer, White, and Peckham dissented. Likewise the court divided in the same way, the majority holding on the merits that the facts alleged against Senator Burton were sufficient to justify a conviction if established. The minority held there was no evidence at all to sustain a conviction.

Rosseau, the Dynamiter.

Philadelphia, Jan. 16.—Captain Donaghy of the local detective force stated this morning that he would call upon District Attorney Bell today relative to action in the case of Gessler Rosseau the dynamiter, but expressed the opinion that the man would more than likely be turned over to the New York police, who have sufficient evidence to convict him in connection with the sending of the infernal machine to the steamship Umbria at that port in May, 1903. While an effort will be made to connect the prisoner with other crimes, yet it is the belief of the local police that Rosseau does not know anything concerning the sinking of the Naronic, ten years ago. Captain Donaghy bases his opinion in this respect on the fact that the Naronic sailed from the other side of the ocean, while Rosseau, it is believed, was never out of this country, and it is also the opinion here that Rosseau does not know anything as to the disappearance of Owen Kelly who went away mysteriously from this city several months ago. Rosseau, however, endeavors to create the belief that he is possessed of information concerning Kelley's whereabouts.

Destructive Fire.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—Fire started at 9 o'clock this morning in the upper floor of the county building which is combined with the city hall at La Salle street and Washington street, and great damage to the structure was anticipated. In an hour, however, the flames were under control. The fire originated on the top floor, supposedly from oils and paints stored there, while the building was being renovated and painted. An explosion spread the fire rapidly and a panic ensued among the thousand or more employes in both the city and county buildings. Two workmen are missing and one, a painter, named Edwards, was taken out by the firemen badly injured and burned, his clothing stripped from his body by the fire. Four court rooms were on the top floor, and many valuable court records are believed to have been destroyed. While the City Hall portion of the structure was not damaged, the rapid spread of the flames threatened its destruction.

Massacre by Bulgarians.

Constantinople, Jan. 16.—Word has reached here of the massacre of an entire family by Bulgarians by near Salonika. Bulgarians who have been operating near Exisu, not far from Salonika, surrounded the home of a Greek notable there and took the whole family captives. They sought out a baker's furnace and threw the family into the almost white heat. All were killed instantly and their remains reduced to ashes. The Greek Patriarch has entered a protest with the Porte against the continuance of such atrocities.

Serious Conditions in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 16.—A dispatch from Lodz reports serious rioting there yesterday, despite the efforts of the authorities to maintain quiet. Rioters hoisted red flags and fired fifty shots at the place, wounding one of the officers. The police replied with a volley, killing the standard bearer of the rioters. Sixteen of the disturbers were arrested.

The Market.

Georgetown, Jan. 16.—Wheat 96a$1.12.

United Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 16.—All the delegates to the convention of the United Mine Workers of America, which opens here today, reached the city yesterday and there were numerous consultations between the antracite and bituminous district presidents. The members of the board were also in consultation and it was said last night among the miners, that policies were being shaped but no definite information as to the proposed plans could be secured, all professing ignorance as to what would be done. Many of the anthracite delegates feel that the conditions under which they are working now were extorted from the operators, and that, as soon as the present agreement expires, a struggle is inevitable. President Mitchell is said to share this view, while hoping that it may not come, but he does not believe that it is good policy not to be prepared for any emergency that may arise.

In his annual address to the mine workers convention here today Judge Mitchell showed how there has been no increase in membership in the organization for the first time in ten years; declares that the anthracite section of the organization is on the verge of disruption; for the first time in any of his public utterances Mitchell flays public officials from Federal Judges in the east to Governor Peabody in the west, and asks for a lobby to get legislation through Congress. He accuses local unions of disloyalty to the national organization by keeping back funds and sounds a general note of alarm to the organization which he says is approaching a crisis in its affairs as in another year the anthracite strike award ends and the bituminous contract expires also. Mr. Mitchell admits two millions of dollars have been expended in strike benefits on the srikes now in progress in the country.

Race Suicide Threatens Town.

Hanover, Pa., Jan. 16.—The borough of Abbotstown, Adams county, needs a revival against race suicide, otherwise extinction threatens the town. The population is dropping off at an alarming percentage. The residents number just 33, a loss of 15 since January 1, 1904.

Attempted Assassination.

At the Nicholas station in Moscow last night, while General Trepoff was bidding farewell to Grand Duke Sergius on his departure for St. Petersburg, a young man wearing a student's cap fired three shots from a revolver at the general. All the shots missed General Trepoff. Grand Duke Sergius proceeded on his journey.

General Trepoff, who recently was relieved of the office of chief of police of Moscow and ordered to the front, to take up his duties as head of the Red Cross Society in Manchuria, incurred the special enmity of the students of Moscow by the severity with which he put down their demonstrations of December 18 and 19, 1904. Within one week in 1902 there were three attempts upon his life. The first of these, on March 31, was by a woman named Allart, a governess, who placed the muzzle of a pistol against General Trepoff's breast and pulled the trigger. The weapon, however, failed to discharge. Four days later a man armed with a dagger tried to force his way into the presence of General Trepoff with the avowed purpose of killing him. The would-be assassin was overpowered and arrested. Within two days after this incident, while General Trepoff was riding in his carriage, a young man, supposed to be a rusticated student, sprang upon the step of the vehicle and tried to stab him, but only succeeded in slightly wounding a policeman. After the anti- government demonstrations in Moscow last month, it was said that the socialistic revolutionary party had passed sentence of death upon both General Trepoff, chief of police, and Grand Duke Sergius, governor general of Moscow.

Letter to L. Stabler,

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir: Your business is, when a house burns down, to give the owner some money to build a new one. It is a good business. Queer that the world got on so long without it.

We paint the one that burnt down and the new one too. What is better, we paint the houses that won't burn down.

You insure the houses that burn; we insure the houses that don't. You have the ashes and smoke. All the houses are ours.

We paint lead-and-zinc; Devoe. We sell the paint to painters; we don't paint.

Lead-and-oil is the old fashion paint. Devoe is zinc ground in with lead and linseed oil; the best paint in the world; and the cheapest, because it takes fewer gallons than mixed paints and it wears twice as long as lead and-oil. Nobody wants poor paint; there's lots of it, though, in the world.

A M Griffin, Plainfield, N. J., writes: "Mr. Aaron Higgins, of Plainfield, always used 15 gallons of mixed paint for his house. Last Spring he bought 15 gallons of Devoe and had 4 gallons left."

Yours truly
F W DEVOE & CO

OPERATIONS IN THE EAST.

The extensive raiding operations of General Mistchenko's 20,000 Cossacks in the rear of the Japanese forces in Manchuria and the Cossacks' invasion of neutral Chinese territory appears to threaten a general violation of the agreement by both belligerents which will call for prompt action by the powers to prevent China being dragged into the contest.

Reports received in Tokio say that the Cossacks have deliberately broken the limits of the war zone. Japanese officials, while regretting the extension of belligerent territory, declare that steps must be taken to stop the raiding expeditions.

While the Russian War Office will not admit that Mistchenko's cavalry movements are more than raiding expeditions, it is believed that they are preliminary to extensive operations which may seriously damage the Japanese lines of communication, providing the Japanese do not catch them in their own trap.

That the Japanese are as wary as ever is indicated in a dispatch to Lloyd's News Agency, London, from Yinkow, dated yesterday, which gives a report that Mistchenko's raiding force was cut off on its way back by 8,000 Japanese despatched from Sanlihoo by General Oku.

The Japanese are pushing sapping operations toward the Russian lines at several points in Manchuria.

Tragic Romance.

A dramatic escape from the Bron Asylum, at Lyons, has been made by a man named Ferrero, said to be the illegitimate son of a prince of the royal house of Savoy. Ferrero, who has led a life of strange and desperate adventures, has suffered imprisonment in Switzerland and been sentenced to death in Italy, was on remand on a charge of murder.

In a Lyons wine shop recently he made overtures to a young woman which were warmly resented by her companion a man named Hirtzler, a Swiss.

Hirtzler struck Ferrero, and in a fight which followed the latter is stated to have stabbed the Swiss to the heart.

Brought before a magistrate, Ferrero declined the aid of a barrister on the ground that he would have escaped long before he could be tried. He was sent to Bron Asylum for an inquiry into his mental condition, and the authorities were cautioned against an attempt at escape.

On the following day he professed to be ill, and when a warder came into his cell to see what was the matter Ferrero pinioned him in a sheet, gagged him and tied him down to the bed. Five minutes later, attired in the warder's uniform and possessed of his keys and revolver, Ferrero walked out of the asylum and made good his escape.

Family Suffocated.

William T. Mason, a lawyer, and his family, consisting of wife and two children, Ellen four years old, and Marion, six months, with a servant, Annie Wells, lost their lives in a fire which partially destroyed the brown-stone dwelling occupied by them at 133 west One Hundred and Thirtieth street, New York, early yesterday morning Although neighbors say they heard cries of "murder" and "burglar" the police found nothing to indicate that the fire was not accidental. The whole family appears to have been suffocated. The bodies of the father and youngest child were untouched by the flames, and those of the others were probably burned after they had died. A policeman and a neighbor who heard the cries attempted to get into the house by breaking windows of the parlor floor, but were driven back by the smoke. The fireman were unable to enter after the lower part of the house and the hall had been burned out. The charred bodies of Mrs. Mason, the servant and four-year-old child were found in a closet under the roof scuttle, through which they are supposed to have been attempting to escape. The bodies of Mr. Mason and the younger child were in a bedroom.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Deaths.

Mrs. Mary Tucker Smith died last night at her home on north Fairfax street. The deceased was the widow of the late Captain John L. Smith and at the time of her death was surrounded by three generations of children. Mrs. Smith was ninety-one years old and respected among a large circle of friends. She had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for the past seventy-nine years. The surviving family are grown. The funeral will take place from her late residence Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock when eight grandsons will act as pall-bearers.

Miss Mary Carlin, a well-known resident of Alexandria county, died yesterday.

Mr. Caton in Richmond.

Hon. J. R. Caton, of Alexandria, member of the last House of Delegates and one of the best known democrats of northern Virginia, arrived in the city Saturday night and is at Murphy's. Mr. Caton is a candidate for the democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor, and has received many assurances of support from friends. He was seen Saturday night at his room at Murphy's by a representative of the Times-Dispatch, and stated that he came down on business which will keep him here practically all the coming week. He had business before the Corporation Commission, he said, and would certainly be here several days.—[Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Mr. Caton returned to this city today.

Preparing for the Banquet.

Preparations for the annual reunion and banquet of R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans are being perfected, and this organization is anticipating another pleasant gathering next Thursday night. The reunion and banquet will be held in the Confederate Veterans' Hall, on Prince street, near Columbus. The rooms are being tastefully and beautifully decorated. A royal feast will be served and a number of eminent speakers will be present. The sale of tickets is not limited to members of the camp. The committee will furnish them to any citizen who desires to participate in the pleasures of the evening.

Emancipation Parade.

A number of colored people met at the office of the Industrial Advocate, 709 south St. Asaph street, Friday and perfected a permanent organization to be known as the Emancipation Proclamation Association of Northern Virginia. Magnus L. Robinson was elected president; Frank Williams 1st vice president; James Taylor secretary; Charles Williams treasurer; Robt. B. Hopkins sergeant-at-arms. It was decided to celebrate the emancipation in May. A number of prominent colored people from other cities will participate in the parade.

At it Again.

Mrs. Roberta R. Payne, of Fredericksburg, who was in trouble in Alexandria some time ago, when she made a serious charge against a man named Pettit, who, after threats of lynching, was released when the facts became known, was before the police court in Richmond one day last week. She collapsed (after telling her eloquent story) and some lookers on raised a purse to send her and her children back to Fredericksburg.—[Fredericksburg Star.

Revival Services.

The revival services now in progress in the M. E. Church South continue to draw large congregations, and the interest seems to be increasing.

Rev Dr. Brooke will inaugurate special services in the Second Presbyterian Church next Wednesday night.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Charles Hopkins, colored, arrested by Officer Young for disorderly conduct, forfeited $5 by failing to appear.

Courtland Peyton, arrested by Officer Mayhugh for drunken and disorderly conduct on an electric train, was fined $5.

Two white, arrested by Lieutenant Smith charged with disorderly conduct, were $5 each.

A white man, arrested by Officers Bettis and Sherwood charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited $5 by failure to appear.

Ellis Nightingill, white, and Richard Pines, colored, arrested on suspicion of robbing C. T. Goods's store, were dismissed.

Exonerated.

For some days past a report of a damaging nature has been current in this community concerning a minister of the gospel, and the many friends of the gentleman as well as of his congregation will breathe easier when they learn that the aspersions were pronounced groundless, by a committee which carefully investigated the same last Friday night. During past years sensations similar to the above were sprung hereabouts, and scandals have passed from mouth to mouth, growing like snowballs in their course. In nearly every instance, however, investigations have showed that such reports had no real basis.

Entertainment.

On Monday, January 30, a benefit will be given to a popular resident of the First ward at the Opera House. The cause is a most worthy one and it has elicited the assistance of quite a number of well-known business men, who will produce a dramatic entertainment and specialties of a high order. The cast is rehearsing and promise an evening of rare enjoyment to all who attend. The feminine portion of the company are well-known young ladies of this city and Washington who have distinguished themselves in amateur productions before. A full cast of the company will be published in a few days.

Reported Murder.

People who reached this city from Mount Vernon on a late train last night reported that a colored man, whose name could not be learned, committed a brutal murder yesterday evening. According to the reports the man placed his wife's head on a block of wood and completely severed it from her body. He then made his escape. A number of people from the Mount Vernon neighborhood, in which vicinity the murder is alleged to have been committed, were in this city today. They knew nothing of the occurrence.

The Weather.

The weather was cold again yesterday, so much so that comparatively few people were seen on the streets. Considerable ice has formed in the river during the past forty-eight hours. The steamers, however, keep it drifting, while the late northwest wind has blown much of it on the Maryland flats. The wind shifted to the south this morning, and the weather has become clear and milder.

Suit.

Mr. J. L. Loose has entered suit in the Circuit Court for the city against the Southern Railway Company for $20,000 damages. Mr. Loose alleges that his flowers, greenhouses and other property situated just beyond the southwestern limits of this city in Fairfax county, have been greatly damaged by the smoke and cinders, from the company's railway shops, engines, &c.

Railroad Rumors.

It is said that at a conference of electric railroad officers held on Saturday night last, it was decided to appoint Mr. J. Colvin, chief electrician of the road and to appoint a superintendent of the road, equipments, &c. Four new motor cars, it is said, are being built by the company and the road is to be double tracked at an early date.

Personal.

Misses Kate and Julia Monroe have returned from Boston, New York and Philadelphia, accompanied by Mrs. C. F. Nash.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Richard Francis oldsborough, formerly of this city but now of New York, and Miss Anna Girault Farrar, of New Orleans, which took place in the latter city on December 31st last.

The Gazette.

The Alexandria Gazette has just entered upon its 106th year. During this entire time the Gazette has, we believe been in the Snowden family, and to many of the people of the State the paper is a part of the State's history. Certainly to us of the younger generation it is one of the best newsgatherers in Virginia.—[Manassas Journal.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES

The failure of Wm S. Barbour was announced on the New York Consolidated Exchange this morning.

While entering a saloon at No. 13 Exchange Place, Jersey City, N. J., today, a man believed to be Matthew Kehoe of No. 35 Prospect street, Stapleton, S. I., fell dead. He is a collector for a brewery at No. 91 West Tenth street, New York. Death was caused by heart disease.

The gang of dynamiters who have been terrorizing the country within a radius of 25 miles of Philadelphia, visited Phoenixville, Pa., today. They blew open the safe in the Pennsylvania Railroad office and secured a large sum of money. The exact amount cannot be stated until after an examination of the books.

During the absence, this forenoon, of Mrs. Annie Troxell, from her home, 2744 Laton street, Philadelphia, two of her three children, while playing set fire to a lounge in a first floor room. Annie, aged 6, said to her sister, Theresa, aged 4, "go up stairs and take care of the baby while I run for mamma." Theresa obeyed and heroically remained with George, the 17 months old infant, until both were killed by smoke before Annie returned with Mrs. Troxell. The house was badly damaged by fire.

There was a run on the Bank of Suspension Bridge, one of the most solid financial institutions of Niagara Falls, N. Y., this morning. The Power City Bank and the Bank of Niagara came to the rescue of the Bank of Suspension Bridge, with a deposit of $200,000. Both banks stand ready with double this amount if necessary. The rumor as to the bank's insolvency was the result of the institution remaining open after hours to cash the pay checks of the Lehigh Valley Railroad employes.

John W. Brandt, foreman of the Vedersburg, Ind., News, was shot and killed there yesterday by Charles Eckburg, financial secretary of the local lodge of Odd Fellows. Immediately following the murder of Brandt, Eckburg turned the revolver on himself and sent a bullet into his brain. The bodies of the two men were found in the barber shop where Eckburg worked late yesterday afternoon. On Eckburg's body was found three letters. One was addressed to the public and was dated January 1st. In it Eckburg declared his intention of killing himself because of his financial troubles.

Republican Call.

Mr. Park Agnew of this city chairman of the republican State committee, has issued a call for a joint meeting of the State central and executive committees to be held at Lynchburg on Saturday night. These committees are composed of fifty members on the central and ten on the executive committee. It is understood that the meeting will be for the purpose of taking action relative to the coming State election and to discuss party matters in general.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 16.—In the first hour of business the stock market felt the influence of buying orders which had accumulated over Sunday, largely as the result of the development of decided strength late last week. In the industrials there was heavy buying of Amalgamated Copper, which carried it up 1¾ per cent. A reaction of ¾ per cent. followed, but the price held steady under continued absorption. U. S. Steel stocks were little more than steady.

Coughs and Colds.

All coughs, colds and pulmonary complaints that are curable are quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure. Clears the phlegm draws out inflammation and heals and soothes the affected parts, strengthens the lungs, wards off pneumonia. Harmless and pleasant to take. Sold by all druggists.

Do Not Suppress a Cough.

When you have a cough do not try to suppress it, but remove the cause. The cough is only a sympton of some disease, and the disease is what you should cure, then the cough will stop of itself. The most common cause of coughing is a cold. Anodynes will promptly suppress the cough, and preparations containing chloroform, opium, etc., are used for that purpose, but they do not cure the cold. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy on the other hand does not suppress the cough, but relieves it by removing from the throat and lungs the mucus which obstructed the breathing and allaying the irritation and tickling in the throat. It also opens the secretions and effectually and permanently cures the cold as well as the cough. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Riot at the German Mines.

A dispatch from Berlin says that the coal strike continues to spread, the leaders evidently losing control of the miners. Although the Essen conference on January 12 voted against further strikes until the mine-owners'-association returns its answer, on January 16, to the demands of the conference, a number of meetings of individual miners' unions Thursday voted to join in the strike. The number of men now out on strike has reached 68,858 at 90 shafts. The leaders are unable to control the strikers and keep peace. At Horst, on the Emscher river, serious rioting occurred, strikers attacking gendarmerie, police and operatives who were willing to work A number were wounded on both sides and several arrests were made. The Phoenix Company, one of the large steel prducers in Germany, has sent a circular to its customers notifying them that the works have been shut down owing to the strike. The great steel syndicate also has published notice foreshadowing delay in meeting its contracts. Some signs of discontent among the ironworkers have manifested themselves, and possibly may lead to a strike.

Opposed to Church Fairs.

In a pastoral letter sent to the priests of the Cincinnati archdiocese Friday Archbishop Moeller lays down some rigid rules regarding church fairs and picnics. He says that "fairs, picnics, excursions and euchres often give occasion to scenes and acts which are not above reproach. "We feel disposed peremptorily to forbid them, but fearing lest we might thereby embarrass some pastors, we deem it sufficent for the present to make known this our decided opposition to such proceedings." The letter then repeats former rules governing such matters, particularly emphasizing the prohibition of fairs, picnics and euchres on Sundays and the prohibition of wheels of fortune and slot machines on any day. The elimination of dancing from church entertainments and early closing of fairs on Saturday nights are urged. The Archbishop also forbids appeals to the general public for assistance or the collection of money at the church doors as an entrance to service.

No Crime to Kiss.

Justice of the Peace William Mills, of Trenton, N. J., sits high in Cupid's court. This exponent of Jersey justice on Friday delivered the opinion that kissing, as kissing, is neither crime, misdemeanor, assault nor battery. All of which set free Michael Tobasco, accused by the husband of Algerio Carsolino of what he thought the crime of kissing his wife. Unfortunately, the jurisdiction of the court is contained within a square half mile. Algerio came upon Tobasco Saturday in his home, never suspecting he was there. Tobasco being the real idol of her heart, and Carsolino the husband of her father's choice, Tobasco and Mrs. Algerio were embracing each other.

Brutally Tortured.

A case came to light that for persistent and unmerciful torture has perhaps never been equaled. Joe Golobick, of Colusa, Calif, writes: "For 15 years I endured insufferable pain from Rheumatism and nothing relieved me though I tried everything known. I came across Electric Bitters and it's the greatest medicine on earth for that trouble. A few bottles of it completely cured me." Just as good for Liver and Kidney troubles and general debility. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

No More Stomach Troubles.

All stomach trouble is removed by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It gives the stomach perfect rest by digesting what you eat without the stomach's aid. The food builds up the body, the rest restores the stomach to health. You don't have to diet yourself when taking Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. D. Erskine, of Allenville, Mich., says, "I suffered Heartburn and Stomach trouble for some time. My sister-in-law has had the same trouble and was not able to eat for six weeks. She lived entirely on warm water. After taking two bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she was entirely cured. She now eats heartily and is in good health I am glad to say Kodol gave me instant relief." Sold by all druggists.
